Nations Assemble On Suez

Third Gathering Hopes to Create Canal Users' Group Capable of Working

LONDON (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd formally declared the Suez Canal Users' Assn. inaugurated today after 15 nations announced their decision to join it.

Lloyd was presiding over a conference of 18 nations which have pronounced themselves in favor of international control of the Suez Canal, placed under state ownership by Egypt on July 26.

Japan, Ethiopia and Pakistan have not yet decided whether to become members.

The 90-minute opening session of the envoys wound up with appointment of three expert committees, which will consider:

1. Organization of the association; the powers and relationships of a council comprising a delegate from each member country, an executive group and an administrator, who probably will be a Scandinavian.

2. Operations; the practical questions concerning relationship with Egyptian authorities, payment and collection of canal dues and the possible by-passing of Suez.

3. Financial matters; creation of a common working fund to pay for a secretariat and an operational headquarters which may be set up in Rome or Lisbon.

Lloyd announced that the following 14 countries have advised Britain of their intention to join as full members:

Australia, Denmark, France, West Germany, Iran, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Turkey, the United States, the United Kingdom and Norway.

One of the tasks for the first committee on organization is whether the association should approach other governments to join. Countries such as Panama, Liberia, and Belgium are being considered because their shipping and trade patterns depend a lot on having efficient use of Suez.

Ambassadors of the 18 nations sat down to the third international conference to put flesh on the bones of the agreement reached at the second Suez parley last month.

Some Britons feel U.S. Secretary of State Dulles has not backed the United Kingdom strongly enough in its demand for international control of the Suez. The London Observer said Lloyd will attempt to use American television and radio to sway U.S. public opinion toward the British view even though he knows he will be competing for attention with the presidential election campaign.

Egypt's Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi already was en route to New York for the Security Council session, after a final conference with Nasser. There was no indication Egypt would modify its previous rejection of international control of the canal. Fawzi heads an eight-man delegation, including Wind Cmdr. Ali Sabry, Nasser's top political aide.

The 18 nations meeting in London are the countries that backed the original plan of the United States, Britain and France at the first Suez conference in August for an international body to run the canal. Nasser rejected the proposal. Then at a second Suez conference last month the 18 decided to form Seua.

Steelworkers Strike

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union struck today at two of the nine Greater Kansas City plants where labor contracts have expired.

About 600 production workers were reported on strike at the Fairbanks Morse & Co. plant west of Kansas City, Kan. Pickets were at the entrances to the steel fabricating plant of Black, Sivalis & Bryson, Inc.

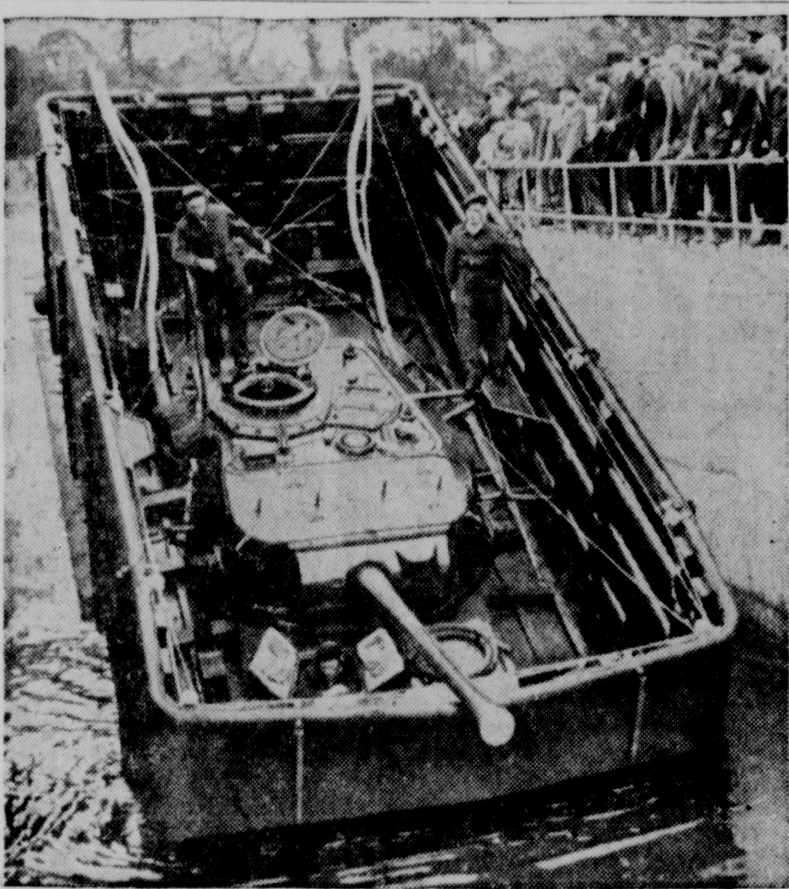

Meanwhile negotiations on new contracts were scheduled at the Columbian Steel Tank Co., and the Standard Steel Works.

It's Out of Season

One subscriber said she didn't mind hot or cold weather as long as it stayed in its proper season. This overlong summer was protested.

Partly cloudy and warmer tonight; partly cloudy and cooler Tuesday; low tonight in low 60s; high Tuesday in mid-90s. The temperature one year ago, high 74, low 50; two years ago, high 84, low 59; and three years ago, high 91, low 56.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks $3.75, steady.

MAYBE THEY'LL HIT A SUBMARINE—A rectangular water-tight "ferry" encircles the turret of a British Centurion tank as it rolls into a test pool at Chertsey, England, in a demonstration of the buoyancy apparatus. The waterproof sides of the floating platform are raised hydraulically when the tank enters the water and are lowered in the same manner when the armored vehicle reaches shore, ready for action. A specially-installed propeller keeps the tank moving in water too deep for its treads to roll along the bottom. (AP Wirephoto.)

Makes Recommendations—

Authority on CP Education Surveys Children's Center

The Crippled Children's Center was visited here over the weekend by a nationally-known authority on education and training of cerebral palsied. Lowell Clark, program coordinator of the United Cerebral Palsy Association of greater St. Louis, surveyed the center as a service to Sedalia's newest health organization.

Clark, who directs the Cardinal Glennon Center, the Grotto Educational Center, and the Buder Youth and Adult Program in St. Louis, looked over the local center, which is a non-profit venture for crippled children with all types of conditions, and made recommendations to the staff and members of the board of directors.

Although Clark has specialized in cerebral palsied children particularly, he has a vast knowledge of programs for all types of exceptional children. His volunteer service will, therefore, be very valuable to the local organization in its long range plans for developing the center.

He stated after his summary that he was highly impressed with the facilities of the local Crippled Children's Center, particularly since it had only been in operation a little over a year.

"It is most remarkable for a community of the size of Sedalia to have developed a center so quickly for exceptional children," Clark said. He was highly complimentary of the enthusiasm which is being exhibited by the volunteer helpers working at the school, which is located at the nurses' home at Bothwell Hospital.

Ike Gives Reply To Adlai

Accuses Democrats Of Tolerating 'Inflation, Bunk' In Their Campaign

CLEVELAND (AP) — President Eisenhower accused the Democrats today of having tolerated "the thievery of inflation" and of talking "wicked nonsense" and "political bunk" in the campaign.

Without ever mentioning his Democratic opponent Adlai E. Stevenson by name, Eisenhower fired back at Stevenson criticism in the strongest terms he has used so far in an address prepared for delivery in Cleveland's Public Square.

Eisenhower hit at Stevenson on the farm issue, the cost of living, labor and wages, and on several other points. He said that on the other hand his administration has adopted policies "that have created a tremendous confidence in America's future."

Eisenhower referred to the Democrats as "these men of fretting fear and worried doubt." Then, turning again to his own Republican administration, Eisenhower added:

"We have given to our nation the kind of government that is a living witness to a basic virtue in a democracy — public morality, public service and public trust.

"In this administration you cannot find those ugly marks of the past, special favoritism, cronyism and laxity in administration."

Eisenhower traveled here by special 12-car campaign train on an overnight run from Washington. He arranged to go on by plane from Cleveland to Lexington, Ky., for a nationwide television-radio address tonight at a GOP rally at the University of Kentucky coliseum.

Eisenhower's bid for Ohio's 25 electoral votes and Kentucky's 10 came as his campaign pace quickened. The White House announced yesterday Eisenhower will make a 5,500-mile, 43-hour flying trip in mid-October to Minnesota, Washington and Oregon. All are key states in the GOP drive to re-elect Eisenhower and recapture control of Congress.

In today's speech, Eisenhower swatted at Stevenson's statements last week that the cost of living is at an all-time high and that the President has done nothing about it.

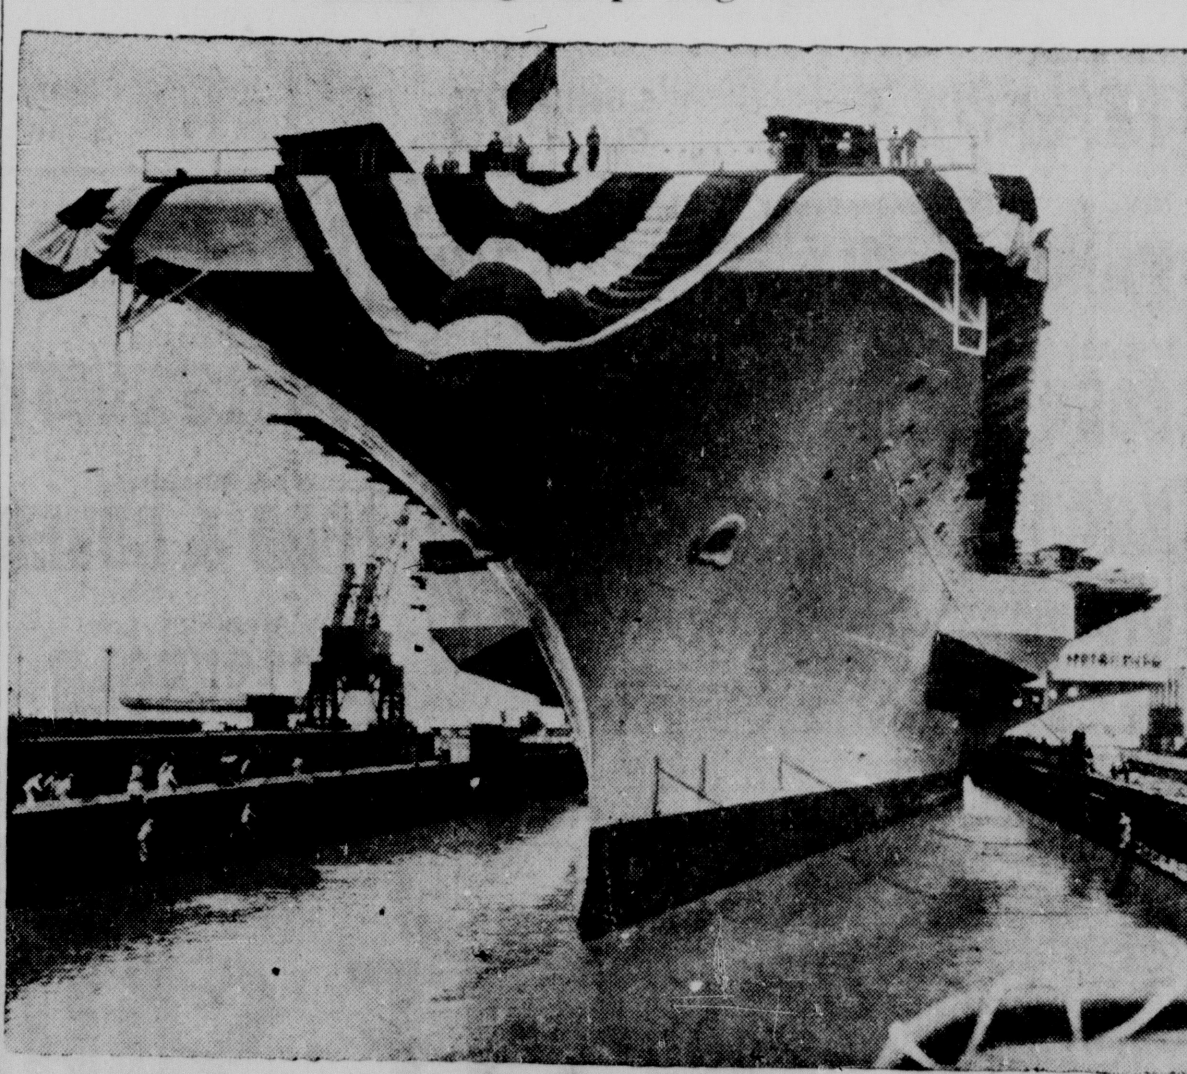

Without disputing the government index showing living costs at a record high point, Eisenhower directed his emphasis to saying "the cost of living has been remarkably stabilized—only about 2½ per cent increase in 3½ years." Then he added "during the previous (Democratic) administration the cost of living increase was 20 times as great."

"Today we have a stable dollar . . . we have balanced the federal budget, and have started making some payment on our huge national debt," he said.

Bishop Marling Here As Overnight Guest

Truck Driver Claims Guilt In Coed Death

Conscience Bothers Man Who Says He Blanked Out Then

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Police officers say a truck driver walked into the station and told them he believes he killed a University of Omaha coed last December, but Nebraska sources reported they found discrepancies in his story.

Gerald Allen English, 31, who came here two months ago from Omaha, was booked yesterday on suspicion of murder and Detective Robert Hacker said English told him he had been conscience-stricken since the death of Carolyn Nevins, 20, on the university campus last Dec. 10.

"My nerves have been tormenting me . . . I haven't been able to sleep," Hacker quoted English. "There is something on my conscience. I am convinced I am the murderer."

Hacker said English gave him this account:

On the night Miss Nevins was killed, English offered a ride to a girl standing on a corner, but she refused. His mind went blank thereafter, but upon reading about her death the next day he recalled "hearing two shots" from a .22 caliber pistol he always carried. He threw the pistol into the Missouri River.

English, said Hacker, related that he still had the car he was driving the night Miss Nevins was slain.

Miss Nevins was an honor student and an outstanding debater who worked part-time in the university library. On the night of her death she had been waiting for her father, Arthur Nevins, Omaha insurance executive, who had been delayed about an hour in going to the campus to pick up his daughter.

When her body was found, partly covered by the early-morning snow, her clothing was disarranged but there was no evidence of a struggle.

Livestock, Poultry Show—

Annual 'No Money' Auction For Youths Held at Moberly

Juvenile delinquency took a back seat, in fact, was completely pushed out of the picture, as youth achievement took over recently at the 2nd Annual Stamper Youth Auction at Moberly. Some 2500 farm young people, members of 4-H Clubs, Vocational Agriculture classes, with their parents, leaders and teachers participated in the day-long events of this unique "no money" auction.

This was truly a demonstration of youth achievement in action and the events in which the youngsters participated included a Livestock & Poultry Show, in which the youngsters competed for $350 in prizes and five trophies — the auction of 25 calves, 20 registered gilts and 1,000 pullet chicks sold to the highest bidder in Stamper stamps — and a calf scramble in which participants from 30 4-H and FFA groups vied with each other to catch and win ten additional calves.

This unusual event for farm young people is sponsored by the F. M. Stamper Co. Mill, Moberly. According to Henderson Wilcox, general manager of the mill, any farm boy or girl in the area of Missouri and Iowa served by the company may participate. Instead of money, the youngsters use stamps from Mill-Fresh Stamper Feeds to bid on calves from registered herds, registered meat-type gilts and pullet chicks bred for egg production.

The animals and poultry exhibited in the livestock and poultry show were animals purchased by the youngsters at the 1955 Stamper Youth Auction and brought back to the event this year to compete for the cash prizes and trophies. Both the show and the auction were demonstrations of youth achievement in action. On the one hand, for those exhibiting animals and poultry, this marked the culmination of a year's achievement in a club or school project with the rewards going to those who had done the best job in care and management. Many of the animals were also exhibited in local, county and district shows as well as at the State Fair at Sedalia. Several of the exhibitors indicated they also planned to show their animals at the American Royal. In the auction, conducted by Col. Guy L. Pettit, Bloomfield, Ia., the bidding was fast and furious. The first calf brought into the ring, a herford calf purchased for the sale from Wilcox Hereford Ranch, Moberly, Mo., sold for 70,000 Stamper Feed Points, the top price paid by the youthful bidders for a calf. Average purchase price for the 25 calves was 42,896 points. The top selling gilt was a Landrace gilt purchased for the sale from Spencer-Meinke, Clark, Mo. Average purchase price for the gilts was 24,305 points. The average purchase price for the chicks was 16,940 points for 100 pullet chicks. Again here, youth achievement was having its day, with the rewards going to the boys and girls who had concentrated on the objective of saving enough stamps to buy the calf, gilt or chicks of their choice.

Still a different form of achievement was demonstrated in the calf scramble, with 30 boys representing as many 4-H Clubs and FFA groups competing to catch and halter the ten calves in these events. This was the entertainment highlight of the day, packed with plenty of action and excitement while the boys chased, caught and haltered the calves.

Exhibitors and placings in the various classes were as follows: Hereford Baby Beef — first, Terry Rollins, LaPlata; second, Sam Reid, Madison; and third, Jimmy Vallee, Clifton Hill. Angus Baby Beef — first, Jack (Please turn to page 2 column 7)

Youth Named To Compete At Dairy Meet

Paul W. Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincel Klein, Versailles, was chosen to represent the 13-state central region in competition for the Future Farmers' national Dairy Farming award. Paul and representatives of the other three regions are being honored at the National Dairy Cattle Congress this week in Waterloo, Ia., where the award will be presented. His record of achievement will be pitted against those of Danny W. Bird of Black, Va.; Richard Van Auker, Newton, N.J.; and Robert A. Thiel of Canby, Ore. One of them will be named national Star Dairy Farmer.

Paul earned $80 raising pigs when he was ten years old, and used the money to buy a bred Holstein heifer. Two years later he sold her and a calf for $200, and bought a registered Jersey heifer. Another cow was bought from his sister when she went to college.

From that start, Paul has built a herd of ten registered Jerseys, six of which are now producing milk. Average production of his cows last year was 8,050 pounds of milk and 457 pounds of butterfat. He has sold about $3,500 worth of milk during the past four years.

He has won many prizes with his cattle. One of his heifers last year won the Junior Champion award at five fairs, including the district show at Springfield and the Missouri State Fair. He exhibited the Junior Champion Bull and the Senior and Grand Champion Female in the Missouri State Fair FFA show. A good judge of dairy cattle, Paul has represented the Versailles FFA chapter in two state judging contests. In addition to the dairy cattle, his farming program this year included 9 hogs, 15 acres of wheat, 10 acres of oats, 15 acres of corn and one-fourth interest in 5 acres of alfalfa.

Soviet Crisis Expected

Differences Exist Among Red Rulers; Khrushchev Policy Hits Opposition

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Political sources in Belgrade pressed today to see evidence of a serious ideological clash inside the Communist party family in the Yalta meetings of Soviet, Yugoslav and Hungarian leaders. They said the clash might lead to a new crisis in world Communist party relations.

These quarters read great significance into the news that the boss of Hungary's Communists, Erno Geroe, has joined the conversations between Yugoslavia's President Tito and the Soviet Communist chief, Nikita S. Khrushchev. Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin also is attending the talks, billed by Moscow as a vacation gathering in the Crimea, but viewed in the West as a critical stage of a Kremlin political struggle.

Belgrade observers speculated that Hungary's Geroe hastened to the Black Sea resort to give his support to Khrushchev's policy of downgrading Stalin and Stalinism. The policy has led to important political repercussions throughout the Communist satellite countries.

These sources, noting that the Soviet news agency Tass reported Geroe's arrival in Yalta without comment, said his trip could not be considered accidental. They said there is no doubt that ideological differences exist among Communist rulers.

The Yugoslav press is paying particular attention to a Budapest dispatch noting that Hungary has changed the names of factories and institutions which had been named for Matyas Rakosi. Rakosi, closely identified with Stalinism and the violent denunciations of Tito during the Moscow-Belgrade estrangement, has been ousted as boss of the Hungarian Communist party. His loss of influence is interpreted here to mean that a policy of de-Stalinization is continuing in Hungary.

As the evidence is pieced together in Belgrade, Khrushchev's policies ran into opposition in the Kremlin. This, and an outcropping of dogma differences between the Soviet and Yugoslav Communists, led to Khrushchev's visit to Yugoslavia and Tito's sudden decision to go back to the Soviet Union with him.

Diplomats in London believe Khrushchev has enlisted Tito's support for his campaign downgrading Stalin. Informed sources say the campaign has embroiled the Soviet Communist party boss in a bitter struggle with old Bolsheviks in the Kremlin.

Two veteran Stalinists — former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Deputy Premier Lazar Kaganovich — are said to feel Khrushchev's switch to a more liberal brand of communism has weakened Moscow's control of the satellites.

Should Soviet-Yugoslav relations go sour again, Tito's government stands to lose more than half a billion dollars in Communist credits and grants. Since relations with Tito began improving three years ago, the Soviet bloc has showered the Yugoslavs with economic benefits to compensate for the 1948 Stalin-inspected boycott.

The uncertain status of Soviet-Yugoslav relations has caused intense interest in Washington. James W. Riddleberger, U.S. ambassador to Belgrade, returned to the Yugoslav capital yesterday after a three-month vacation. He is expected to ask Tito for a fill-in on the Yalta talks when the president gets back from the Crimea.

Thanks To Sedalia Merchants

Another one of those public events which strain the seating capacity of a stadium or auditorium to provide room for spectators, occurred at Jennie Jaynes stadium, Liberty Park, when Sedalia retail merchants celebrated Ozark Jubilee Sales days by declaring a dividend of free entertainment for the public.

The Ozark Jubilee show captivated an audience of at least 4,500 men, women and children. The night was ideal for the outdoor performance. Not only did the crowd seated in the stadium and on park benches in front stay with the show until the last mandolin and vocal note died away, but also hundreds in front stayed standing up for two hours on the gravel and cinders.

Tied in with newspaper and store advertising the promotion of Jubilee Sales days and the free Jubilee Show brought in the people. The whole affair was well planned by the merchants and the Chamber of Commerce to which they belong. It was something new, an experiment in response, but it paid off in much good will because the crowd at the stadium thoroughly enjoyed the free show.

Many who attended suggest that the Sedalia merchants be complimented for their courtesy — so here it is. Thank you!

And while we are on the subject of thanks, isn't it grand that Sedalia has such a fine stadium, thanks to the trustees of the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Memorial fund. The stadium has been used repeatedly the past few years not only for sports but also for church, school and other public functions.

Illinois Governor Slow On The Cleanup

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Some of Pres. Eisenhower's friends were quite dubious about his tribute to Gov. William G. Stratton, the Republican who has had more scandals break under him in Illinois than any other Governor in years. What Ike said in Peoria was:

"I like a man who when anything goes wrong in government cleans up fast. That is the way Governor Stratton works."

The facts in Illinois, according to those who have followed that State's scandals, are just the opposite. Here is the scandal rolloall and how Governor Stratton did not move fast to clean them up:

The Hodge scandal—the theft of $1,500,000 by GOP State Auditor Orville Hodge was unearthed not by Stratton but by the Chicago Daily News, a Republican paper. Stratton should easily have detected it, because his finance Director, Morton Hollingsworth, is supposed to get an accounting of State funds every three months. This was done regularly when Adlai Stevenson ran the State, but either it didn't happen or someone under Stratton closed his eyes.

State Treasurer Warren Wright is also supposed to check on vouchers every three months. He also missed the fact that $1,500,000 had disappeared right under the eyes of Stratton, Hollingsworth, and himself.

Bank Deposits Scandal — State Treasurer Wright has other interesting things developing under his own eyes, which may be why he wasn't alert regarding Hodge. He decides where State funds shall be deposited, and the bankers who want these State funds gave a $50-a-plate dinner at which they raised $57,000. This was given to Wright for a trailer, a new Buick convertible to pull it, a Jeep to help in case the strain on the Buick was too great, and about $25,000 for "Expenses."

Stratton's Farmhouse—The Governor himself, meanwhile, was busy with some farming operations of his own which might well have deserved a quick cleanup. He purchased a rundown farm North of Springfield, then used State tractors and equipment to improve it. The farm is now one of the best in the area.

School-Lunch Scandal — Four top school officials have been indicted for defrauding the State on a school-lunch contract. The State Superintendent of schools awarded a fat contract to James Dunbar, prominent Illinois Republican, to deliver food for Illinois school lunches. Dunbar is now accused of overcharging and paying kickbacks to State officials. He has been asked by Illinois State Attorney Latham Castle to return $114,136.

Governor Stratton did not, however, work fast to clean up. He knew as early as April, 1955, a year and a half ago, that there was something smelly about the school-lunch program, because Congressman Fountain of North Carolina held an investigation which spelled it out. Only recently has Stratton's Attorney General got around to doing anything. Meanwhile, Attorney General Brownell, who is Ike's own enforcement officer, has done nothing. Yet Federal food is involved, and Brownell is required by his oath of office to protect the honesty of the school-lunch program.

Toll-Road Bonanza—Governor Stratton has also been sitting on some dynamite regarding toll roads. He has not acted fast to investigate or clean up.

A syndicate of big bankers handled a $415,000-

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR: Campaign Litterbugs. Have the perennial campaign litterbugs invaded your community yet?

Nearly every election year thoughtless campaign workers, each one trying to outdo his rivals, give too many American neighborhoods the appearance of a county fair ground just after the grand finale.

Litterbugs are overgenerous with campaign posters, stickers, handbills. Many will still be around weeks and even months after the election day. Whoever heard of a candidate carefully removing all his signs?

Whole handfuls of cards and leaflets extolling the virtues of various candidates are tossed indiscriminately on piazzas and doorsteps. Campaign stickers by the armloads are carelessly pasted on lampposts, street signs, and other pieces of public property. At the same time posters frequently plaster the sides of vacant buildings, fences, and stone walls.

Fortunately, many candidates do not employ these inconsiderate tactics. Instead they spend their dollars to buy advertising space in newspapers, billboards, car cards in buses and on the trains, and subway posters, radio and television time, and postage for their campaign literature.

It seems to us they deserve better treatment from voters than do those who spread trash in the drive for votes. An elementary qualification of a public servant should be respect for community cleanliness.

000 bond issue for the State to finance toll roads, on which their commission is a fat $8,307,000. The chairman of the toll roads commission under whom they operated is Judge Evan Howell, who had a $17,500 job on the U. S. Court of Claims but resigned to take a $12,000 toll-roads job at the invitation of Governor Stratton. Howell hired an out-of-state friend, Joseph Knoerle of Baltimore, to make a survey to see whether toll roads were feasible. Knoerle was so low in funds at the time that the Continental Illinois Bank had to finance each step of his survey. He was to get $32,000 for the preliminary survey and another $663,000 for the final survey. He couldn't collect the final $663,000 unless he found the toll roads feasible.

He found them feasible. Meanwhile Judge Howell organized the National Turnpike Association which road contractors and investment bankers were permitted to join for $1,000 each. An investigation of the Illinois toll-roads business is in the works, but Governor Stratton isn't moving fast to do the investigating.

Insurance Scandal—A Senate investigator's report shortly to be aired states that George F. Barrett's law firm in Chicago "Reputedly raised $250,000 for the (1952) campaign of Governor Stratton."

After that, Robert Barrett, brother of George Barrett, was appointed Illinois Insurance Commissioner by Stratton. After that also, according to the report to the Senate, the Barrett law firm began collecting "Legal Fees" from out-of-state insurance firms seeking to do business in Illinois. Nationwide Insurance, for example, paid the Barrett law firm $6,000, while Central National Life Insurance paid $4,000.

After Commissioner Barrett died two years ago, Stratton named another Barrett law associate, Justin McCarthy, to be Insurance Commissioner. The confidential Senate report adds: "It became clear that to get anything done in the Illinois State Insurance department it was necessary to engage the Barrett Law firm, and pay a stiff fee. Otherwise the application would be delayed and not acted upon for an indefinite time."

Campaign-fund Scandal — Stratton's Cook Co. campaign manager, Charles Fleck, collected "campaign contributions" for Stratton last year — though Stratton was not running for anything in 1955.

Later, Fleck was appointed to a cushy state job handling estates and wills in Illinois. He is permitted to collect around $100,000 in fees.

Among the donations he received was a $4,600 check from Edward A. Hintz, president of the Southmoor Bank at which Orville Hodge cashed his illegal checks. In turn, Fleck saw that $1,000,000 of the funds he administered as Cook County public administrator was deposited in the Southmoor Bank.

The $4,600 contribution was later returned after the Chicago Daily News found out about it.

That is the record of the Republican governor and his administration praised by the President for cleaning up fast.

The Latin Fund

The wealth of Venezuela is being put to use for the development of all Latin American countries. A gift of $33,000,000 is being offered as the beginning of a fund to aid in the economic advancement of the South American continent. This is significant to the states north of the border as well and is an out growth of a suggestion made by President Eisenhower at the Panama meeting of the Presidents of 21 nations last July.

Venezuela is the richest of South American countries and while she suggested that her generous offer be matched by the same percentage which is 3.75 percent of her budget it is unlikely that the same proportion could be met by other less prosperous nations. The United States would have to subscribe $2,000,000,000 which seems like a staggering amount but not if compared with the amount we have invested in other foreign aid in Europe and Asia. Yet it might be more worth while to participate generously in making an efficient instrument for economic, financial, social and technical progress in that Organization of American States in which the U. S. has manifested such great interest and concern.

At least Venezuela has started the ball rolling toward a practical way to achieve the objectives of closer hemisphere co-operation. After all, the Americans are separated only by a canal which is operated in an amicable manner acceptable to all nations.

Four Years Create New Campaign Tactics

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The first month of the presidential campaign is over and the candidates have a little over five weeks to go. How has it been so far?

Different from 1952. That's for sure. Four years ago the presidential race smoldered with emotion. If there's fire in this campaign, it's still in the basement.

And the candidates—of the four only Democratic vice presidential candidate Estes Kefauver was not running in 1952—are making a different kind of campaign.

In 1952—with the country jittery and tired of the war in Korea, divided over Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), and disgusted with doings in Washington — the Republicans made these three main issues:

The war in Korea and foreign policy in general; corruption in government; and Communists-in-government.

Those issues were the kind which made old friends fight and neighbors argue in public. But the war is over now. McCarthy has faded. There have been no real scandals. Talk about Communists in government, long overplayed by the Republicans, has died down. Now the Democrats—Adlai Ste-

Mostly the Democrats have aimed at things closer at home and easier to understand. They've been talking about people's pocketbooks on bread-and-butter issues: Better prices for farmers, more concern for the small businessman, power development, more money for the aged, better schools, higher pay for teachers.

Stevenson and Kefauver have sighted deliberately at each group which has suffered some money loss under the Eisenhower administration, for while this is a time of high prosperity and record employment, there are soft spots.

In 1952 the Democrats, because they had been running the government, were on the defensive. This time the Republicans are in that spot. Naturally, while the Democrats try to make them look as bad as possible, the Republicans put their best foot forward.

The result is some exaggeration on both sides. It may get worse. President Eisenhower, who campaigned furiously in 1952, apparently thought he could win this year

Dr. Jordan Says— Surgery Is Effective In Breast Cancer Cases

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

In bringing up the subject of cancer of the breast a reader asks whether there is a successful method of treating it, and whether I think an operation would be advisable for a 73-year-old woman.

Before discussing the first portion of this question, I should say that there are few reasons why cancer of the breast in a 73-year-old woman should not be treated by operation just as it would be in a younger woman. In other words, surgery usually is advisable.

One of the most common locations for cancer in women is certainly in the breast. Here as elsewhere it should be identified early. This can be done in most instances by periodic visits to the physician plus learning proper self-examination methods. The latter can be taught by the physician. There is also an excellent motion picture about self-examination put out by the American Cancer Society.

Cancer of the breast is comparatively unusual before the age of 25. It is most common between 45 and

55. After 55 it begins to become less frequent again, but it can arise at almost any age.

In the early stage pain, burning or other sensations are usually absent. Some flattening of a portion of the breast is suspicious. Any irregularity which had not been present before also calls for attention. Slight inward pulling of the nipple should not be neglected. An abnormal secretion or discharge from the nipple is sometimes present.

Itching, with eczema, which is present on one breast and not on the other may be significant, though it is relatively rare.

A small lump is the most characteristic sign. When a lump in the breast is found, a small piece of the tumor should be removed and examined under the microscope. And if the microscopic examination proves the presence of cancerous cells, then the tumor and the breast as well, should be removed. The examination is usually performed in a few minutes while the patient is on the operating table.

If surgery is early enough there is a good chance of complete cure. If neglected until the cancer cells have spread, cures still can be obtained, but not so many. Surgery is often followed by X-ray treatments.

Cancer of the breast is particularly open to early diagnosis and to satisfactory surgical removal. Because the chances are so good, it is most unfortunate when women who have the slightest suspicion of breast trouble put off visiting the doctor. That's because they are afraid that they might be told they have a cancer.

No woman should live in constant dread of cancer, but neither should she become careless.

Adlai Spends Every Spare Moment at Writing Chore

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — There is no rest for Adlai Stevenson from now till election day.

From here on, it will be a six weeks' continuous campaign. The idea is to have Stevenson come face to face with as many people as possible.

His vice presidential running mate, Estes Kefauver, is doing the same thing. They are traveling by plane, train, bus, auto caravan—street car, horse and buggy or on foot where necessary.

The great problem which the Stevenson campaign managers say they'll have is to find time for their man to get off in a corner some place by himself to do his writing.

This, the Stevenson handlers have learned, is an essential part of their candidate's make-up. He still likes to do his own reading, thinking and writing.

There are from 40 to 50 advisers now shooting ideas at Stevenson all the time. This campaign staff sifts ideas and submits drafts of sections for speeches. But when the writing of an important speech has to be done, Adlai is the original do-it-yourself man.

This explains why he is supplementing his speeches this year with a series of written statements which will set forth his principles and his personal platform, for the record.

Stevenson does his writing with a soft lead pencil on a big tablet of ruled white paper. His two secretaries, Carol Evans and Phyllis Gustafson, have now mastered the Stevenson scrawl, with its many tiny interlinings and marginal notes. They make a first type-written draft.

Stevenson then goes over this and successive drafts, making corrections right to the very last minute—or later. When he got the text of his first speech to reporters four hours ahead of delivery at Harrisburg, it was something of a record.

He looks forward to plane hops—day or night. With no distracting telephones or conferences, that's when Stevenson goes to town on his writing. He begrudges time taken from his composition. He doesn't feel good if he doesn't have a pencil in his hand, scribbling, part of each day. He almost never dictates speeches or statements direct.

NEW CASTLE, Del. — State Police received several calls early today that two boats had probably collided in the Delaware River during dense fog.

The callers said they could hear noises in the middle of the river.

The Coast Guard dispatched a rescue boat.

Meanwhile, two volunteers from a fire company ventured onto the river to see what had happened. Charles Pote and Tom Richardson found three small pleasure craft at anchor.

The occupants explained they had no fog horns and were yelling and banging on pots and pans to warn any approaching ships.

Formosa Fire Leaves Over 1,000 Homeless

TAIPEI, Formosa — A fire in Taipei yesterday destroyed property estimated at $300,000 in value. More than 1,000 persons, most of them squatters, were left homeless.

The blaze destroyed a whole block of shacks and three three-story buildings. Police held two quatters for questioning.

tics, the Stevenson staff members say he has improved over four years ago.

He can handle more correspondence faster. He can meet more people and conduct his business with those he does meet in less time. He is more interested in people. Having to beat Kefauver changed him that way.

In the four years since 1952 Stevenson has been in every state and almost every county. He has a tremendous grasp of local politics. He knows which cricks ought to be dammed, which farm areas need to be saved, where there is spotty local unemployment. He doesn't have to be briefed.

One of the most encouraging developments to the Stevenson campaign this year is the way state and local Democratic leaders come to meet him with their troubles. They know he helped them in local elections. They are more anxious to support him now than they were four years ago.

With all the emphasis on meeting and working with these local Democratic leaders this year, television is to be a completely supplemental type of campaigning for Stevenson. In a sense, this is a virtue of necessity. The Democrats don't have the money for spectaculars.

Stevenson's principal fund-raising effort during the campaign will be as headliner for a series of dinners on Oct. 20. They'll be connected by closed-circuit TV.

Otherwise, the Democratic hopes for being able to pay their own way will be on the "Dollars for Democrats" rallies Oct. 16 and the collection of Roosevelt dimes.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

"Don't feed the bears" stands as a warning in many of our national parks and elsewhere. Everyone is warned over and over again that these animals are not tame. They are accustomed to seeing people, and they are not afraid of human beings.

Bears like to eat as much as other animals, including human beings. The food given by men to these beasts of the forest is not always good for them, nor is it always adequate to satisfy the desires of the bear.

Sometimes people tease the animals by giving them chewing gum, stones, sticks or paper. When the poor beasts have been teased, they will attack not only the one who teases, but others of the same kind of two-legged animals. Bears are dangerous.

Many people do not heed the warnings. They go on feeding and teasing. Accidents result and people are hurt.

The teachings of God warn us of the consequences of sin. Our religion tells us what to do in our relations with God and with other people. We do not heed the warnings. We think the warnings are unnecessary. We go our own way and the consequences are sometimes disastrous.

Let us obey God, and not take things in our own hands. Warnings are not given unless there is danger in disobedience.

Missouri's New Egg Law Was Not Intended As the Remedy

By TED JOULE
MU Extension Poultry Marketing Specialist

Missouri's new egg law was not passed as a miraculous cure-all or a get-well-quick scheme, but as an aid in building a long time progressive program for the benefit of all from producer to consumer. We all realize that any industry cannot stand still, it either slips back or moves forward.

It takes many different phases and types of programs with co-ordinated efforts to establish and maintain a progressive industry. Yet, progress that tends to disrupt or change old established customs and habits does not come easily and is often misunderstood. The new or revised egg law is one of the many programs now being used to assist in guiding the destiny of Missouri's future shell egg industry.

Our new egg law offers many aids in assisting with the development of the shell egg program. A few of these aids are: establishing an orderly quality, rebuilding confidence, meeting competition, establishing a cooperative approach, better understanding, regaining old and building new market outlets, and working toward greater efficiency in handling and merchandising of shell eggs.

Missouri has for many years been a surplus egg producing state. Our out-of-state shell egg market outlets have been decreasing for sometime. Even our own home demand for quality eggs was not being met. Consequently, total shell egg income was directly affected with resulting difficulty for all segments of the industry. Our new egg law can, with progressive changes as necessary, be of great assistance in overcoming present difficulties and establishing Missouri's shell egg production and marketing program on a basis equal to or exceeding that of any other state. This in time will raise the state's total egg income by having a larger per cent of the shells eggs being produced, marketed, and consumed on a quality basis.

Within this short period of 13 months, Missouri has moved rapidly in making adjustments and in recognizing the value of the egg law as an aid in making improvements. We must realize that time is essential in establishing any new law into a smooth functioning program.

Any law can only be as effective as we the people make it. Our individual cooperation is essential if progress through legislation or otherwise is to succeed. Missouri's shell egg industry will move forward through the use of our egg law as an aid and not as the absolute solution to the industry's many problems.

Feed Supply Should Guide Cattle Buys

Buying stocker and feeder cattle to fit a feed supply is a consideration that successful cattle feeders always keep in mind, says A. J. Dyer, University of Missouri professor of animal husbandry.

Cattle of nearly every description and grade will be offered for sale this fall, and the question is, What kind should be bought? The answer isn't the same for all farms because of varying conditions. However, buying cattle that fit a feed supply is a good rule to follow, Dyer says.

Heifer calves have sold at two to four dollars less per hundred weight than steers from the same string of feeder cattle. At this reduced price, they are good buys.

The best bet when buying heifers is to pick those of good and choice grade and finish to sell next spring at choice grade. Finished weights of 800 to 900 pounds are acceptable if heifers don't get overfat or heavy with calf, Dyer says.

Other Information Should Be Combined With Soil Test

By O. T. COLEMAN
MU Extension Soils Specialist

Soil tests show the amounts of the more important plant foods that are a part of the soil or are available to plants. Until recently applied lime and fertilizer affects the soil, becomes a part of it, or becomes available to plants, it will not likely show up in the soil tests.

Soil tests alone do not show the amount and kind of plant foods that should be applied. But soil test results, coupled with information regarding the kind of soil, its recent cropping and soil treatment, history, and future cropping plans, will indicate the basic soil treatments that should be applied so these plant foods will not be limiting factors in producing good yields.

Since the soil is not usually tested for the actual plant foods in the form that they are applied to the soil in lime and fertilizer, proper interpretation of these tests is important. For instance, a test for per cent organic matter helps show amount of nitrogen that will be available to various crops during their growing season. Since experiments have shown about how much nitrogen is needed for production of various crops during an average growing season, soil tests will show how much more nitrogen is needed for the extra yields we hope to produce.

To determine amount of different forms of phosphate to apply, tests of the soil are made to show how much acid soluble phosphate it contains. Then it is left to the farmer to decide whether to apply processed phosphate every year, every three to five years, or rock phosphate every six to ten years.

To help determine the amount of potash that should be applied, tests are made for exchangeable potassium. Tests are made for exchangeable calcium, exchangeable magnesium, and for acidity (PH) to determine need for lime.

Tests made on soil samples representing the surface seven inches of each different kind of soil in each of your fields will help show the fields that will give you the greatest return for your investment in soil treatments. Of course, the crops you need to grow to furnish feed for livestock you produce and the drainage, slope, and location of these fields will also have some effect on needed treatments.

Get the help of your county agent in interpreting these tests and in working out their best use in a balanced farming plan that fits your family and your farm.

Professor Claims Oldest Living Tree

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A University of Arizona professor says he has found the world's oldest living things — three small bristlecone pines high in the mountains 20 miles northeast of Bishop, Calif.

Dr. Edmund Schulman estimated they are 4,000 years old. The giant sequoias of California, current record-holders for old age, are about 3,000 years old.

The scientist bases his estimates on detailed countings of the pine trees' rings under the microscope. He said the trees grow to a maximum height of only 30 feet, with trunks from 25 to 50 inches across, and that the trunks grow just an inch across in 150 to 200 years.

Adopts Theme For Rural Fire Prevention Week

"Don't Give Fire A Place To Start." That's the theme for Fire Prevention Week set for Oct. 7 to 13.

C. E. Stevens, extension agricultural engineer and secretary of the Missouri Rural Safety Council, says this fire prevention campaign will be conducted throughout the United States and Canada.

President Eisenhower has called upon both groups and individuals to take an active part in this national effort to reduce loss of life and property resulting from fires. This traditional fire safety drive is sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and state agricultural extension services. Local groups will sponsor these drives in each community.

There are more than 750,000 building fires in this country each year. And the most common causes of building fires are smoking and matches, electrical defects, and defective heating and cooking equipment.

Stevens urges you, whether you live on a farm or in town, to join in Fire Prevention Week activities. Such drives will help eliminate many fire hazards and will bring fire safety more sharply to the attention of the public.

Benjamin Franklin, other than being a diplomat and printer, was also a skillful athlete. He won many contests in wrestling, swimming, boating and running.

Right Storage Is Important For Sprayers

By RUSSELL LARSON
MU Agricultural Engineer

Now that weed and insect spraying has generally been completed for the season, it's time to prepare your sprayer for winter storage. Proper storing of the sprayer can be extremely important in reducing maintenance cost and amount of time required to get it ready for use next spring.

First step is to flush the entire system with clean water, both inside and out. This flushing is particularly important for removing all remnants of herbicides, insecticides, or carriers which may be corrosive to the sprayer parts if left in contact for a long period of time. After this flushing, the hose and nozzles should be removed and the tank and boom dried thoroughly. The hoses should be drained, hung in a dry place, and allowed to air dry. Nozzles should be disassembled, cleaned, and stored in oil in a sealed container such as a glass fruit jar. The oil for this can be motor oil, diesel fuel, or a solvent type oil.

Remember that a wire or wire brush should not be used for cleaning nozzles as it may be very injurious to the orifice. A fiber brush should be used on the nozzles.

Drain plugs on the pump should be removed next and all water drained from the pump to prevent freezing. The pump should then be flushed with a suitable oil or preservative as suggested in the manufacturer's specifications. The storage procedure as outlined by the manufacturer is very important in those pumps having nylon or rubber impellers and also on many others because of the variety of materials used in the seals.

Strainers and valves should be flushed, cleaned, and drained. The strainer screen should be cleaned thoroughly.

After individual sections have been taken care of, all remaining portions should be given a protective coating of oil.

The entire unit should then be placed in storage where it will be protected from the weather and in such a position that the boom, pressure gauges, and other parts are not subject to damage when moving other equipment near it.

Farm Safety

This week and every week should be farm safety week. Farm Safety is something that should make us stop and think. This is particularly true right now because we are on the eve of the corn picking season.

Mechanical corn pickers with their rolls and chains have since their invention been one of the worst cripplers of the human body. I still remember early tragedies with pickers that occurred near my boyhood home in South Dakota.

Farmers Lose Milk Sales From Disease

Missouri's program to eradicate Bang's disease is moving ahead rapidly. However, Fred Meiner-shagen, extension dairy specialist at the University of Missouri, says dairymen recognize that the present rate of eliminating Bang's disease from dairy herds in the state is none too rapid. These dairymen are losing markets each day because they can't provide milk to markets that demand milk from Bangs free herds.

About a year ago, New Mexico refused to accept milk unless it was from Brucellosis free herds. Recently, Kansas and Nebraska have moved to accept only milk from Bang's free herds.

It's been estimated that Missouri will lose a market of about 50,000 pounds of milk per day as a result of the requirements that all dairy herds producing milk for Kansas markets be on Plan A for Bang's control by July, 1957. The St. Louis and Springfield markets have similar deadlines set up for Jan. 1, 1958, while Kansas City has set the first of next year as its date for Brucellosis eradication.

Right now, the principal effect of these regulations is on the market of grade A milk. However, the extension dairy specialist says the requirements for Grade C milk will likely follow right behind in the trend towards Bang's free herds.

The number of cows tested under the Bang's program in Missouri has been going up fast. Nearly 100,000 cows are now being tested monthly.

In spite of warnings like farm

Safety Week, and the work of machinery and other interested folks the needless injuries continue. You can probably use up the fingers on at least one hand counting up farmers you know who have lost fingers, a hand or an arm in a corn picker.

New Communications Effective

The three men in the office, Lloyd Lewellen, Owen Fox and I spent four days last week in a Conference on Communications. By this term is meant ways we get messages to farm folks. Of course these messages go by radio, television, telephone, newspaper, office calls, farm visits, letters, farm meetings etc.

Our instructors were demonstrating how to make a radio broadcast more effective. Their subject was practicing Farm Safety with corn pickers. First they had a program where the County Agent talked about the problem and quoted some statistics.

Next was a group program with a farmer, a machinery dealer and the county agent participating and it was more effective than the first. However the one that brought a little catch to your throat was a tape recording made at the hospital by the county agent and a man who had just caught his hand in a picker that afternoon.

This man said he was working in the field across the creek and wanted to get through by milking time. The picker had been plugging up and he had left the machine in gear while he cleaned it out. The county agent asked if he usually did that. "No," he said "but I was trying to get through by milking time." He reported that he had cleaned it twice while in gear but the third time his sleeve caught. He tried to get his coat off but before he knew it his hand and arm were in the machine. His wife found him there an hour later.

Of course the third broadcast appealed to the emotions but it cut through the static and registered much more effectively on the hearers than did the previous two broadcasts.

Natural gas is lighter than air. But, one year's production of gas would weigh two and one-half times a year's total production of steel in the U. S.

Quality Production To Be Emphasized At Kansas City Meet

Quality egg production will be emphasized in the 1956-57 Missouri Farm Flock Improvement project, according to Walter Atzenweiller, agricultural commissioner of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce.

Missouri egg producers interested in the project can pick up folders concerning project details at their local county agent's office.

More Farmers Start Chicks In the Fall

Speaking of poultry, extension poultry specialists say more Missouri poultrymen are starting their replacement pullets in the fall and winter months. And the reason is to meet the demand for hatching eggs and to produce eggs during the season of high egg prices.

This change in hatching dates has created a number of new problems for producers. One thing is that pullets hatched in November, December, and early January reach maturity at an early age. This is undesirable because it generally causes pullets to lay a large number of small eggs. However, it can be prevented by using artificial lights on the young chicks for the first 2 1/2 to three months.

Use of lights can mean a delay of ten to 14 days in sexual maturity. A slight restriction on feed during the growing period will also tend to delay maturity.

Extension specialists say that chicks started in the fall must be reared on the confinement system. Two square feet of floor space should be provided for each pullet grown to maturity. Some poultrymen are expanding their present brooder houses to allow more room for confinement rearing. They feel the extra costs involved can be justified from the standpoint of reduced labor and fewer hazards than on range.

Professor Morrison Is Dairy Day Speaker At University Tuesday

Featured speaker at the University of Missouri Dairy Day Tuesday, Oct. 16, will be F. B. Morrison, retired chairman of the animal husbandry department at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., according to Dr. A. C. Ragsdale, University of Missouri dairy department chairman.

Prof. Morrison is possibly the greatest living authority on animal nutrition, Ragsdale says, and his contribution to the Dairy Day program should be of interest to all Missouri dairymen. He is particularly well known for his book, Feeds and Feeding, familiar to practical livestock feeders and breeders around the world as well as to thousands of college graduates who have used the book as a text in animal nutrition courses.

Other events have been scheduled for the one-day event and the program is now complete, Ragsdale says. All interested persons are urged to mark Oct. 16 as the day to attend Dairy Day at Columbia.

Series Begins Wednesday--

Maglie, Ford Are Seen As Almost Certain Starters in First Game

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP)—Sal (the Barber) Maglie, Brooklyn's bearded Cinderella man, and Whitey Ford, New York's brilliant southpaw ace, were regarded today as almost certain starters for the opening game of the 1956 World Series when the champion Dodgers and Yankees renew their fall rivalry at Ebbets Field Wednesday.

The Dodgers yesterday earned the right to meet the Yankees for the seventh time in 16 years by capturing the National League pennant on the last day of the season with a hard-earned 3-6 triumph over Pittsburgh. The Yankees, who had whipped the Dodgers in all six series clashes until the Brooks turned the tables last year, clinched the American League championship September 18.

Odds-makers already were quoting the well-rested Yankees as 7 to 5 favorite to gain revenge on the Dodgers, who had to battle to the limit to edge out the Milwaukee Braves by one game. The Yankees also were a 6 to 5 choice to knock off the Dodgers in the opener in the Brooks' own back yard.

A sellout for the game was virtually assured with the balance of the 34,000 tickets gobbled up only hours after they were put on sale. Millions more were expected to watch and listen to the games, which will be telecast and broadcast nationally over NBC. Game time will be 1 p.m. EDT.

Neither Manager Walter Alston of the Dodgers nor Casey Stengel of the Yankees committed himself on his opening game hurler. All indications, however, point to Maglie and Ford.

"It could be Maglie, Craig or Erskine," Alston told reporters in the Dodger clubhouse after the game yesterday.

"I haven't been giving it much thought," Alston added. "I've just been thinking about winning this one. I'd like to open with Maglie, even though it means only a three-day rest for Sal. I think he might be able to go but I'll have to wait and see."

Maglie confirmed that his arm was bothering him a bit, but said it was only stiff, not sore.

"I'll pitch if the skipper wants me to," the 39-year-old righthander said. "I'll be ready."

Stengel only winked when asked whether he would start Ford.

"I ain't sayin' no and I ain't sayin' yes," Casey double-talked. "but you may recall he beat those guys twice in the series last year, didn't he?"

Further proof that the Yankees' 19-game winner and the American League's percentage and earned run leader would pitch the opener was gleaned from the presence of Ford in a box seat behind home plate at the Dodgers' finale with Pittsburgh.

Pitching nominees for the next three games must be regarded as mere conjecture but it was believed that Stengel will follow with righthanders Don Larsen, John Kucks and Tom Sturdivant. It wouldn't surprise, however, if Stengel started lefthander Tommy Byrne in a game at Yankee Stadium. Byrne pitched two solid games against the Dodgers last year.

Alston probably will come back with Clem Labine, Don Newcombe and either Roger Craig or Carl Erskine in the next three games. All are righthanders.

Ford's World Series record is three victories, including two over Brooklyn last year, and one defeat, also against Brooklyn.

Maglie, a lifesaver for the Dodgers in the dramatic pennant triumph, with 13 victories in 18 decisions following his purchase from Cleveland in mid-May, has had two unfortunate experiences in World Series combat.

The Yankees disposed of him in five innings in the 1951 series against the New York Giants. Sal lasted only seven innings against the Cleveland Indians in 1954 but was not charged with a loss.

Despite their fatiguing last ditch pennant fight with Milwaukee, the Dodgers feel they can defeat the Yankees provided their pitching holds up.

"We've got the momentum," said Alston. "that's to our advantage. We're getting the hitting but we had to use our pitching in order to win."

"It's all up to our pitching," said Jackie Robinson.

"It all depends on Clem Labine," said Pee Wee Reese. "I think Maglie is the kind of pitcher who can beat the Yankees. If Clem can do it we've got a good chance."

"We've got to stop Mantle and Berra," said Carl Furillo. "If we do, we'll win."

"We'll best the Yanks," said Roy Campanella confidently. "In comparison to the tough season we had, the World Series will be a joy."

Indians-Mules Fight Should Be Tough One

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Coach Ken Knox's Cape Girardeau Indians have a sporty winning streak of 11 games working but early season indications are that they'll have a real challenge from the Warrensburg Mules in the coming M.I.A.A. football flag game.

Cape scored as it pleased in winning No. 11 by a 46-13 score over Eastern Illinois in a non-conference game at home Saturday night.

Warrensburg, with one of its best squads in many years, won its second game of the season, 27-0 over Southwestern (Kan.), at Warrensburg Saturday.

But that was about all the M.I.A.A. could face with pride for its weekend of engagements as Rolla, Kirksville, Springfield and Maryville were thumped by outsiders. Washington of St. Louis scored twice in the last quarter to beat Rolla 14-13. Pittsburg (Kan.) State walloped Kirksville 46-18. Emporia State defeated Springfield 13-0, and Fort Hays State beat Maryville, 19-13.

They Can Still Win the Big Ones--

It Took Dodgers Until Last Day to Prove Right to Title

By ED CORRIGAN

The Associated Press

A year older, a lot wearier, but still with the knack of winning the big ones, the Brooklyn Dodgers were champions of the National League today.

It took them right up until the last day of the season to prove it, though.

Last Friday, they were a game behind the Milwaukee Braves. Each had three to go. The Brooks needed help from the St. Louis Cardinals, who were playing Milwaukee in the final three-game set.

Not only that, they had to win their last three against Pittsburgh. The Cards came through, winning two out of three from the Braves. The Brooks clubbed the Pirates three times, including yesterday's 8-6 conquest, for a one-game advantage at the end.

Pittsburgh manager Bobby Bragan made, perhaps, the most illuminating comment on the Dodgers' victory.

"Brooklyn won it the hard way," he said. "They deserved to win. Milwaukee had it and gave it up. They didn't deserve the pennant."

The Braves, who finally licked the Cardinals, 4-2, when it was too late knew it, too. There will be no cries of "foul."

The pressure actually was off the Dodgers yesterday because

Jackson Wilt First Sedalia Golf Champ

Wins Over Bernard Stanfield Sunday In Finals, 9-and-8

Jackson Wilt, a Sedalia Country Club golfer who didn't even play in the club championship this summer, shot one of the best games of golf of his life Saturday and Sunday to whip Bernard Stanfield 9-and-8 and become Sedalia's first city golf champion.

Wilt almost clinched the title Saturday in the first 18 holes of the 36-hole finals when he rolled up an 8-up margin over Stanfield while shattering par by five strokes, 34-33-67, on the Sedalia Countryview course. In the second half of the match Sunday at the Country Wilt held Stanfield even on the first nine holes to maintain his 8-hole lead, and won the first hole of the second round to claim the match in 28 holes.

For a time Sunday on the first round it appeared as though Stanfield were headed for a comeback after winning two of the first three holes. But Wilt put his damper on that by taking the fifth and seventh holes. Stanfield won the eighth and Wilt wrapped up the match with wins on Nos. 9 and 10.

Although Stanfield had a lower medal score on the first round Sunday—a 38 against Wilt's 40—Wilt matched him evenly in hole-by-hole play.

This was the first year for a City Golf Championship in Sedalia and was a big success with golfers from both Sedalia courses competing. Interest was keen throughout the tournament and from all indications the City Championship will be an annual event for Sedalia.

Awards will be presented on Wednesday, Oct. 10, in a dinner at the Country Club at 7:30 p.m.

Athletics' Owner Thinks Team Will Do Better Next Year

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics finished up in last place in the American League, but Owner Arnold Johnson thinks it will be different next year.

As the A's defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 6, to finish the season, Johnson reared it as an omen of better things to come in 1957.

"I'm not making predictions but they'll have a time keeping us in eighth place next year," he said.

Johnson was among the 13,171 fans who saw the club in action, bringing the total attendance for the season to 1,015,154 for the season.

"We know pitching is our weakest spot," Johnson said. "We hope to be able to remedy that some by trading deals we hope we will be able to pull off this winter." And looking just a little further ahead, Johnson added:

First Weekend's Signs--

Cleveland Browns Are Having Trouble; Bears May Fade

By NICKIE ELLENA
The Associated Press

The Cleveland Browns are in trouble; the Chicago Bears may be a disappointment; the traditional powerhouses can forget about the usual pasties.

These are the indications after the first weekend of action in the National Football League.

Cleveland, defending champion, was upended yesterday by the Chicago Cardinals, fourth-place Eastern Conference finisher last season, 9-7 on three field goals by Pat Summerall. The Bears, off a successful 5-1 exhibition season and tabbed by many to go all the way this year, bowed to the Baltimore Colts 28-21 under the pinpoint passing of sophomore quarterback George Shaw.

The New York Giants, with Mel Triplett scoring three times, led all the way to beat the San Francisco 49ers 38-21; the resurgent Detroit Lions downed the Green Bay Packers 20-16; the Los Angeles Rams romped over the Philadelphia Eagles 27-7, and Lynn Chandnois, with three touchdowns and a 91-yard kickoff return, led the Pittsburgh Steelers to a 30-13 victory over the Washington Redskins.

The Browns, always a good defensive club, prevented the Cardinals from scoring a touchdown but could not stop Summerall's accurate toe as he booted 3-point.

Spahn, who lost Saturday's game. "They rated the pennant."

Other noteworthy developments of the final day of the season:

1. Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees became the first player since Ted Williams turned the trick in 1947 to win the major coveted triple crown — batting, runs-batted-in and home runs.

2. Robin Roberts failed in his quest for his seventh consecutive 20-game winning season.

3. Red Schoendienst of the New York Giants got the 2,000th hit of his career.

4. The Washington Senators set a record in reverse, finishing the season with 77 strikeouts, breaking a 42-year-old mark.

Mantle batted only once in the Yanks' 10-inning, 7-4 loss to the Boston Red Sox, but he knocked in a run. That gave him a batting average of .353, 130 runs batted in and 32 homers.

The Giants licked Roberts, taking the first game of a double-header from Philadelphia, 8-3. The Phillies won the nightcap, 5-2, and in that one Schoendienst collected hit No. 2,000.

Baltimore won a doubleheader from the Senators 4-2 and 6-3. Thirteen Nats fanned in the second game to bring their season total to 877. The previous mark was 863 set by the St. Louis Browns 42 years ago.

In other games, the Cincinnati Redlegs, who finished two games off the NL pace, turned back the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, while in the American League, the Detroit Tigers stopped the Cleveland Indians, 8-4, and the Kansas City A's whipped the Chicago White Sox, 7-6.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Big Ten schools have stepped up athletic recruiting to an "unhealthy degree" and are spending more money at it than ever before, a faculty committee has decided.

Prof. Marcus Plant of the University of Michigan discussed the committee report publicly for the first time last night in a speech to the University Press Club of Michigan.

Plant said the committee had found "no overt violation of existing conference rules" on recruiting.

But, he said, "the report makes it clear we have come a long way from what most of us consider the sound principle that the student should select his school on the basis of its educational resources."

Plant said the committee found that 246 of the 256 football lettermen on 1955 conference teams were interviewed and screened by university football staffs while they still were in high school.

"Our rules," plant said, "do not

Furious Race Still Expected Among Big 7

By SKIPPER PATRICK

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The early season play has been something less than sensational—except for Oklahoma—but the opening full round of conference clashes this Saturday still is expected to kick off a furious Big Seven Conference race for an Orange Bowl berth.

Oklahoma, which can't go back to Miami next Jan. 1 because it was there last New Year's Day, will meet Kansas State at Norman in one of the three Big Seven encounters. It shapes up as little more than a stiff workout for the defending national champions, who opened 36-0 over North Carolina last Saturday.

In other league games this week extra lively clashes are expected between Colorado and Kansas at Lawrence and Iowa State and Nebraska at Lincoln.

Twice beaten Missouri continues its rugged non-conference schedule with SMU at Columbia.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Oklahomans will be after a modern winning streak record at the expense of Kansas State, which was defeated 34-0 by Colorado last week. The Sooners tied their own mark of 31 straight victories against North Carolina.

The Colorado-Kansas game shapes up as one of the better ones of the day. Kansas' Jayhawks showed their most spirited attack in recent years by scoring two touchdowns in the last quarter to tie College of Pacific 27-27 at Lawrence Saturday.

In other games, all outside the conference:

Iowa State bowed to Northwestern 14-13. Nebraska was humbled by Ohio State 34-7. Missouri was stopped by Purdue 16-7.

Indianapolis Meets Rochester in Third Little Series Game

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Veteran Cot Deal will be faced with the task of stopping red-hot Indianapolis tonight as the Rochester Red Wings and Indians go into the third game of the Little Series.

Teh Indians hold a 2-0 lead and now have won seven straight playoff games—the last of the semi-final American Assn. series against Minneapolis, four straight against Denver in the final AA playoffs and two from the Red Wings.

Marilynn Smith Defends Title In KC Women's Golf Tourney

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 29—Marilynn Smith, former National Intercollegiate champion golfer from the University of Kansas, will defend her crown in the second Women's Heart of America Invitational Open at Hillcrest Country Club October 5-7.

The proceeds of the 3-day, 54-hole event, which will feature virtually all of the top women pros, will go to the Jackson County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Miss Smith, however, will have plenty of competition in her quest to repeat for the championship. The Bauer sisters, Marlene and Alice, Betty Jameson, Beverly Hanson, Patty Berg, Betty Hicks, Mary Lena Faulk, Mickey Wright, Fay Crocker and others will be on hand for the event.

Marilynn won on the fourth extra hole last year in the "sudden death" play-off with Alice Bauer to nail down the top award of $900 in the $5,000 tournament.

The Wichitan birdied the hole from three feet out for the victory, her first on the 1955 tour. Last year's tourney was staged at Oakwood.

Miss Smith and Miss Bauer each shot record-breaking 2-under-par 34-36—70's on their final round for a 54-hole aggregate of 220. They halved the first three holes of the play-off before the Kansan came through with some brilliant golf to win the title. They eclipsed the one-day old mark of 35-36—71, one-under regulation figures, which was set by Fay Crocker, National Open Champion in 1955.

Other marks were set last year and new records are expected in the event this year at Hillcrest.

Sedalia witnessed the type of game Miss Smith plays in 1948 when she played an exhibition round at the Sedalia

Country Club followed by a golf instruction clinic. Mary Lena Faulk, 1953 National amateur champion, had a sizzling 3-under-par 33 on the back side in the 1955 event for another record. Miss Faulk, who turned pro only a year ago and finished in second place in the women's division of the World Championship at Tam O'Shanter, started the final nine holes last year with three successive birdies. She finished with six pars in a row for a 224 total which netted her $343.75.

Marlene Bauer Hagge, however, is the leading money winner in 1955, and she will make a strong bid for the Kansas City title.

During Normally Safe Week 1,788 Die Needlessly in US

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Can you spare three minutes which might help you and your family to live longer?
Yes? Then read on.
If this is a normally safe week, 1,788 Americans alive this morning will be dead seven days from today. Needlessly dead.

They will die in accidents, most of them avoidable. Another 173,071 will hurt themselves in accidents, most of them avoidable.

Wouldn't you think a country odd if it were safer to fight for on a foreign battlefield in wartime than to dwell in during peace?

Well, fellow Americans, that's our happy, prosperous country—the land of the home-hurt free and the car-crippled brave.
During bloody World War II the United States suffered an average of 65,330 combat dead and 149,000 combat wounded each year. But during peaceful but even more bloody 1955 its accident toll was 93,000 dead and 9,000,000 injured. What other nation in history has managed to be more deadly at work and play than it has been at war?

"The number of Americans killed accidentally last year was nearly triple the number of GI deaths during the entire Korean War," pointed out Kenneth Hawthorne, director of a safety organization called the "Emergencies-Don't-Wait-Week Institute."

"The financial cost of these accidents came to 10 billion dollars—enough to run the New York State government for the next eight years.

The seventh annual Emergencies-Don't-Wait-Week, proclaimed this year by 34 governors and 300 mayors, starts today.

And what will happen during the next seven days, even as safer patterns of living are being emphasized by a nationwide education.

Hawthorne predicts 1,788 violent accidental deaths, and gives this partial breakdown of causes:

Eleven hunters will either kill themselves by careless handling of their own guns or be shot to death by companions who mistake them for four-footed game.

Among 31 other firearm deaths most of the victims will be children between 5 and 14.

Eighteen do-it-yourself handy-men will be electrocuted doing home repair jobs because they forgot to turn off the current.

Approximately 381 persons will suffer fatal falls on slippery pavements, in bathtubs, and on highly polished floors.

Fires will take another 121 lives, and many will be smokers who lit their last cigarette in bed just before falling asleep.

Some 47 will die of leaking gas or poisons taken by mistake, and many will be small children.

And about 731 will be killed in traffic mishaps of all kinds.

What is the best way to keep members of your own household off the obituary list? Hawthorne offered these suggestions:

1. Keep poisonous household cleaners out of the reach of children.

2. Make sure floors are not slippery or cluttered, and that stairways are well lighted.

3. Don't overload wiring, and don't store oily rags.

Somoza Lies In State; His Admirers Cry

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—The body of President Anastasio Somoza lay in state today in the country he ruled with a firm hand for 20 years.

Through the night, ordinary citizens filed at the rate of 50 a minute past the glass-covered bronze casket in the National Palace to see the Central American strong man, dead of an assassin's bullets.

Occasionally a man wiped his eyes or a woman sobbed.

A pontifical funeral Mass was to be held today at the Cathedral. Then the body was to be taken to the City Hall, the presidential palace, the army enlisted men's club and back to the National Palace.

Burial will be in the officers' crypt of the National Guard Cemetery Tuesday.

Somoza, 60, was shot down Sept. 21. His guards killed the assassin on the spot. Somoza died Saturday in the Panama Canal Zone, where he had been taken for treatment.

Arrival of the body yesterday in a U.S. Air Force transport sparked the first display of public emotion. Thousands lined the route from the airport.

Two of Somoza's three sons—Luis, 34, who took his father's place as president, and Jose, 40—wep at the airport.

The third son, Col. Anastasio Somoza, Jr., 32, did not go to the airport but joined in a tribute staged by Nicaragua's National Guard. Friends said it was the policy of Luis and young Anastasio to avoid appearing in public together.

The Nicaraguan Congress named Luis Saturday to finish his father's term which ends May 1. Anastasio heads the National Guard.

Dramatics Class Rehearses
Its First Play of the YearBy Joan Iman, Beverly Long
Sharon Alcorn

The dramatics class is working on its first play of the year. It will be "Pot Boilers," a satire by Alice Gerstenberg. This play is to be presented Oct. 10 to the Senior High in the assembly. The characters have been cast as follows: Jim Goodrich, Roy Gwinn, Harry Satterwhite, Deanie Perkins, Bob Kreeger and Wayne Brown. The dramatics class is headed by Elbert L. Blair.

The cross country team is hard at work with not too much recognition so far, as the football team has been in the spotlight. The state meet will be held at St. Louis Oct. 26. Other planned meets include Shawnee Mission High School and Springfield. The team is coached by Forrest Arnall. The team is as follows: Dicky Morris, Dickie Craig, Robert Kreisel, Jerry Bredwell, Dale Burford, Kenny Shepherd, Dick Welch, Loren Sutherland and Mike Lee.

The American Field Service is sponsoring a program for high school juniors to study and visit in Europe. Students with two years of foreign language are eligible and the program is basically expense free.

National Merit Scholarship examinations are being given to all seniors who wish to take them. This is a fine program which offers financial assistance toward a college education.

'Gorilla Man'
Asks High Court
To Execute Him

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After 24 years in prison, Gilbert F. Collie, one-time "Gorilla Man" of San Bernardino County, has asked the California Supreme Court to hang him and free him "from this living death" of a life term.

In a crudely written plea for a writ of habeas corpus Friday, Collie, now 76, said:

"I ask that the court set aside the commutation and that the death penalty be invoked to give me a more merciful and humane death by hanging, as provided by the original sentence. . . I want freedom from this living death."

Collie, called "Gorilla Man" because of his tremendous strength and black beard, was convicted in San Bernardino County in 1932 of the murder of two men. He was sentenced to hang, California's legal form of execution then.

He became deranged waiting for execution and was sent to Mendocino state hospital. Psychiatrists determined he could retain his sanity when not faced with the threat of execution.

The late Gov. James Rolph Jr. commuted the sentence to life imprisonment with a permanent injunction against parole.

The Supreme Court previously has ruled it has no authority to set aside Governor Rolph's order.

Some of the "L" Club members worked at the Ozark Jubilee concession on Friday, Sept. 28. They were assisted by the Spiz.

All students in Smith-Cotton who were 15 years of age or over were given a free chest X-ray on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The results of these tests will be sent to each student's doctor.

The PTA held the first meeting of the "Parent and Family Education Class" on Sept. 25. The meeting was held in Room 8 of Smith-Cotton, with Mrs. Oliver Thomas presiding. A short program was given, entertainment being by Carolyn Heck, Harry Satterwhite, and Sue Turk, followed by Mrs. John Stonner giving a talk entitled "Why Do They Behave That Way." Thirty parents and teachers were present.

Tryouts for pianist and song-leader were held for junior and senior high Wednesday after school. The results of these tryouts will be given later.

Friday afternoon, after school, the Future Teachers met and elected officers: president, Barbara Freund; vice-president, Judy Cowan; secretary, Sandra Mahnken; treasurer, Mary Jane Snavely; and parliamentarian, Glenna Stewart. At an earlier meeting, Judy Hopkins was elected sub-district vice-president. Delegates to the sub-district meeting in Warrensburg will be Julia Ford, Virginia Schondelmeyer and Nancy Fricke.

The Senior High council president, Don Land, opened the second Senior High assembly last Wednesday. It was done in the style of the Ed Sullivan talent show, with Wayne Brown as master of ceremonies.

Smith-Cotton's own song bird, Nan Ferguson, opened the show, singing "Smilin' Through," accompanied by Marilyn Goldman. More music then came from David Dotson, playing a trumpet solo, "Tea for Two."

Jim Rice amused the audience with a reading, "How Not to Worry."

Barbara Mabry played a piano solo, "Boogie Woogie," followed by a pantomime of Elvis Presley by Deanie Perkins.

To end the program, Wayne Brown called on "The Blue Notes," a dance band made up of Smith-Cotton students, Leland Payton, Tom Boehn, Bill Booth, Ken Williams, Clifford Robinson and Janice White.

Judo Experts
Demonstrate
For Kiwanians

An exhibition of judo, a Japanese science of mental and physical development, was given by the members of the judo team at Whiteman Air Force Base, before members of the Sedalia Kiwanis club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Mats to break falls were spread on the floor at the west end of the Ambassador room where the exhibition was staged.

First Lt. John J. McCordle, representative of the Information Services at the base, was master of ceremonies at the one-hour demonstration of combat and sport techniques.

Those who demonstrated the art of Judo were T-Sgt. Martin J. McDonnell, 340th Bomb Wing physical condition instructor, S-Sgt. Edward Keting, Tac. Hospital, A-2C Philip T. Kely, A & E Maint. Sq., A-2C Lawrence E. Doss, Installations Sq., 1st Lt. Loyd R. Brown, Hq. Sq. Air Base Group unit supply officer.

Sgt. McDonnell is a holder of the first degree Black Belt and received training in the art of judo at the world famous Kodokan in Tokyo, Japan. Sgt. Keting and A-1c Kely both hold the first degree Brown Belt which is rated lower than the black belt, but signifies proficiency in the sport.

Airman Doss a comparatively small man in the judo field weighing only 117 pounds, but utilizing his speed to an advantage has been awarded the first degree Black Belt, which symbolizes expert ability in judo.

Lt. Brown, a Green Belt holder and 1953 captain of the Missouri football team, currently is a member of the Judo Club, which has gained many new members since it started recently.

I. H. Reed was program chairman.

Sam E. Boyle, manager of Swift & Co., was inducted as a new member by Phil McLaughlin.

President Jack Shoemaker announced that the club's Ballot Brigade to get out the vote for the November election was ready to function under leadership of Special stretches of tortuous, twisting roads were set aside for testing the 1957 "Inner Ford." The result: A car that hugs a tough road . . . loves a tight turn.

You're seeing why the '57 FORD will take the curve without the pitch

You'll get lots of wonderfully new sensations when you drive the sensationally new Ford!

For instance, what happened to the sway on curves you used to feel in cars?

In this new Ford, there's hardly any "tilt" even on tightest turns! Your slightest wish is an instantly obeyed command.

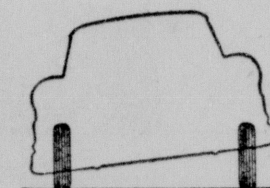

The proved-in-action "Inner Ford" is why!

A new frame that sweeps out between the wheels dips down for a lower center of gravity. New rear springs, mounted outside the frame, give wide-stance steadiness. New steering has a built-in "road sense" for handling that's truly true!

And the way this new Ford takes the bumps! Rough roads are millpond smooth. The new "Inner Ford" has logged thousands of tortuous miles to prove it.

Visit your Ford Dealer Wednesday and see how big, beautiful and powerful a low-priced car can be. Learn how much fun it is to drive a car with all the zip you can ever use . . . that handles like a polo pony. It's a thrill you won't soon forget!

OLD

Time was when cars used to "heel over" . . . tires used to howl, whenever you rounded a sharp curve.

NEW

A lower center of gravity and a host of other new features let the '57 Ford corner as if it were on rails.

Your tomorrow starts with a New Kind of Ford—see it Oct. 3rd.
